

Air1 is a vitial part of our life. With all the poor listening choices available on the radio. Air1 is one of the two stations we listen to while we are in our car. It would a big lost to this family and we believe the local community if for some reason Air1 went off the air. I don't know what most people let their children listen to for music but we are trying to lead our child in the right direction which does not include foul language or sexual lyrics or DJ's who's only concern is how "shocking" they can be. We feel it is of public interest that we have a choice as to what we would perfer to listen to. Not just who has the most money to buy the airwaves.
